Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Regarding claim 7, the terms “U-shaped” are indefinite as it is not clear what structure the term encompasses. To what extent must an element look like a “U” in order to be considered “U-shaped”? For example, the distal end of the legs or sides of the spring 55 are bent inwardly and do not concur with a U-shaped configuration. See Fig. 3 of the drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Caster (2,025,972). Regarding claim 7, a personal care apparatus, comprising: a hair trimmer; a main part “A” and a head part 1, 4, the main part being adapted to be held in one hand and having a region adjacent the head part, wherein the head part is connected to the main part in the region of the main part that is adjacent the head part and the entire head part is pivotable relative to the main part about an axis of pivot. It should be noted that the spring 14 enables the head part to pivotable along a lateral pivot axis and a longitudinal axis passing through the main part. See Figs. 1-8 in Caster. Caster also teaches a personal care tool provided on the head part 1, 4 and comprising a toothed cutting mechanism that has at least one drivable toothed blade 4; a spring 14 of a U-shaped configuration has a cross-member connected to the head part 1, 4 and two sides co-operating with at least one position extension connected to the main part in the region of each of its two sides, wherein the spring acts between the head part and the main part, and the head part is pivotable by the spring in synchronization with varying displacing forces that act on the head part in the course of a personal care process, and wherein the head part is adapted for positioning by the spring in a defined rest position relative to the main part when there are no displacing forces present. It should be noted that the U-shaped spring is defined by two springs 14 create a U-shaped member as shown in Fig 3. The U-shaped spring has a cross-member attached to the head part 1, 4 and two sides attached to a protrusion section of the main part.

Regarding claim 5, Caster teaches everything noted above including a motor is provided to drive the drivable toothed blade 4, and wherein the motor is accommodated in the head part. It should be noted that at least the driving part 15 of the motor is accommodated in the head part. It should also be noted that claim 5 does not require the motor and its driving part both to be placed within the housing of the head.

Regarding claim 6, Caster teaches everything noted above including that the main part "A", when held in one hand, projects from the hand in a direction of projection, and wherein the axis of pivot extends substantially parallel to the direction of projection.

Response to Amendment

Art Unit: 3724

5. Applicant's arguments filed on 05/04/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant asserts that the term U-shaped for spring 55 is not indefinite. Applicant also admits that the distal ends of the spring 55 are bent inwardly. Spring 55 is not U-shaped All the way if its distal ends bent inwards. In this case, only the bottom section of the spring 55 is U-shaped. The claim could clarify the shape of the spring by reciting, "a U-shaped spring comprising a cross section and two legs having distal ends bent inwards."

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
